

WANT SCHOOLS OF SPECIAL NATURE
ORGANIZED LABOR WANTS BOYS AND GIRLS EDUCATED.
HAVE A DEFINITE FORM

Makes Recommendation As To What and How It Shall Be Conducted.
Toronto, Ont., Nov. 11.—Organized labor attitude on the vital question of industrial education is set forth in report to the American Federation of Labor today by a special committee. The report expresses a belief "that if the American workman is to maintain the high standard of efficiency, the boys and girls of the country must have opportunity to acquire education, and to obtain a living in self-respect, and to acquire an intelligent understanding of the duties of good citizenship."
The report therefore favors schools in connection with the public schools having that object in view and suggests an outline of instruction and duties in the line with the recommendation.

ITALY'S KING IS FORTY YEARS OLD

Anniversary Of Birth Of King Victor Emmanuel Kept By Subjects As A General Holiday.
Rome, Nov. 11.—A general holiday was kept throughout Italy today in celebration of the fortieth birthday of King Victor Emmanuel. In Rome the anniversary was observed by a general suspension of public and private business, and the holding of numerous religious services in the various churches. The king himself was in the city, and he was seen in the balcony of the Quirinal palace, surrounded by a large number of soldiers. The king is now approaching ten years since he succeeded his father, the late King Umberto I. At that time he was among the youngest of the monarchs of Europe and grave doubts were expressed in many quarters as to the ability of the young king to cope with the problems that confronted him. In ten years time he has more than fulfilled the hopes of his almost ardent admirers. It is not saying too much, in fact, to state that during the past few years the king has developed into a powerful factor in European politics, of which he has a comprehensive grasp and an intimate and detailed knowledge.

STARK GIVES UP A FIGHT AGAINST LAW

Proprietor of Plankinton Barber Shop Promises to Do Good in Future.
Milwaukee, Nov. 11.—Albert W. Stark of the Plankinton barber shop has apparently given up his fight against Sunday closing. In district court this morning, where he appeared after a case pending against him had been adjourned eight times, Stark was suspended. It is said that Mr. Stark had promised the district attorney that he would make no further anti-closing fight. It was further said that he had agreed to comply with the new closing law without again going to the court.

INCREASE THE COST OF NEW BUILDING

Additional Cost of $20,000 for the Stephenson Training School at Marinette.
Marinette, Nov. 11.—An addition to cost $20,000, as large as the original building, is to be added to the Stephenson Training and Agricultural school in this city. The school has since its opening capacity and outgrown its present capacity and Senator Stephenson today made a proposition to the county board which it will undoubtedly accept at a meeting this afternoon. He will give $2,000 cash towards the new structure if the county board will appropriate $18,000 and he will loan the remainder at four per cent.

CINCINNATI MAN BID IN CEMENT POST

H. W. Morgenthaler's Bid of Ten Thousand for Concrete Hitching-Post Plant Was Highest Made. The plant and property of the Janesville Cement Post company was offered for sale in the bankruptcy proceedings against the firm and was bid in this morning for ten thousand dollars by H. W. Morgenthaler of Cincinnati, the highest bidder. In the company, C. W. Jackson, trustee in bankruptcy, conducted the sale, which is subject to the confirmation of the United States court. The property sold this morning consists of the plant and the blocks and four or five acres of land hill. Fifty thousand dollars was originally invested in the property. In the inventory of the stock machines costing twelve hundred dollars were listed as being worth fifty dollars. Janesville stockholders in the company were Hayes Brothers (Dennis and Michael), John W. Peters, and Thomas S. Nolan. H. W. Morgenthaler was the owner of the largest amount of bonds in the firm.

LEGISLATIVE BODY OF DOMINION MEETS

Canadian Parliament Assembled For Transaction Of Important Business Today.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 11.—The Dominion parliament was opened today with the usual ceremonial. The session promises to be one of the most important of recent years. The principal measure to be presented by the Government will be a bill concerning the creation of a Canadian navy and the participation of Canada in imperial defense. The insurance bill left over from the last session will be another important measure for the house to dispose of, and it is not improbable that the Government will ask parliament to make some radical changes in the rules of the House looking to the expediting of public business.

HUNTING ACCIDENT RESULTS IN DEATH

Name of John G. Hoelzel Is Added to Hunting Season Death-Roll For 1909.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Grand Rapids, Wis., Nov. 11.—John G. Hoelzel, a prominent real estate operator residing at 1106 Sixth St., Milwaukee, was accidentally shot yesterday noon at the town of Arden, ten miles below this city. Mr. Hoelzel was out in the country with his wife and a lady companion, looking over some real estate which he proposed to purchase, taking with him a shot gun in the hopes that he might see some game on the road. As he reached Arden he alighted, assisted the buggy and after having loaded the ladies to alight, he reached for the shotgun, which was lying in the bottom of the rig, and drew it toward him, muzzle foremost. In so doing the hammer caught as he was drawing the gun toward him, firing the charge of shot into his right side, nearly dismembering at once, and Dr. O. H. Houser of this city reached the dying man shortly after the accident, but he was too severe to yield to medical treatment. Hoelzel died from the effects of the accident a few hours after it occurred. He was unmarried and about 40 years of age. His wife is nearly frantic, the firing having occurred within a few feet from where she stood.

NEW MUSICAL CLUB MAY BE ORGANIZED

Student Musicians of High School Discussing Formation of a Stringed Orchestra.
There is a movement on foot among the student players of stringed musical instruments at the high school to organize an orchestra composed entirely of stringed instruments. A number of the pupils are excellent musicians and the proposition has been quite freely discussed and seems to be favored. To start with there would be about eight instruments, possibly ten, with a drum. Miss Miller, one of the teachers, who is an accomplished violinist, will have charge of the organization.

DOCTORS HOLD HER MENTALLY UNSOUND

But Miss Louise Miller May Demand Hearing Before Jury—Action Against Buskirk to Be Dropped.
Miss Louise Miller who preferred charges against Fred Buskirk which were to be tried before a jury in municipal court tomorrow, has been declared mentally unsound by Drs. J. E. Penber and T. W. Nuzum who examined her on Tuesday and the findings so reported to Judge Sale. It appears that also told Mrs. Callahan, wife of the overzealous at the poor-house, that she was inoculated with spiritualism at the time she underwent an operation for appendicitis three years ago and this strange obsession, coming to the ears of the attorneys, resulted in a demand for an inquiry regarding her sanity. In the quelling cross examination incident to the preliminary examination in court, she became badly confused and Dr. Penber declared that she was not sane. FARMER MUTILATED BY CORN-SHREDDER

Deadly Feed Cutter Claims Another Victim, Herman Hadricks, Whose Condition Is Serious.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Manitowish, Wis., Nov. 11.—Herman Hadricks, a town of Manitowish, is the latest victim of the corn-shredder, and as a result of an accident yesterday he will be crippled for the rest of his life. He was operating a whistling machine when he was caught in the rollers of the machine and his arm was literally crushed off before the mill could be stopped. He is in a critical condition.

BOOMING CITY

Businessmen of the city will ask the government to designate Manitowish harbor a harbor of refuge and the port of entry and will make a strong bid for the honors. The movement is headed by younger businessmen of the city, who directed their efforts to the citizens' association in securing factors. From all indications Manitowish is taking a new lease of life, the past six months having witnessed more building and progress along industrial lines than ten years previous.

$11,500 COUNTY FARM ADDITION

BIDS FOR PROPOSED ANNEX WILL BE INVITED.

TO INSPECT ROAD WORK

Resolution Offered by Supervisor Livernore Indicates That There Is Some Existing Disaffection.
Under the law of June 3, 1909, the county authorities are authorized to pay not less than $25 nor more than $50 towards the burial expenses of soldiers, sailors, marines, their wives and widows in cases where the property left by the deceased is so small that the expenses will seriously discommode or distress surviving relatives. This morning the county board entertained a communication from Commander E. C. Pike, Adjutant Almon Baldwin, and other members of Clinton Post No. 70, G. A. R., requesting that the county clerk be authorized to pay $50 toward the burial expenses of a soldier who had been killed in action. After considerable discussion the matter was referred to Committee No. 14 with instructions to report at the January meeting.

FEES AND CHARGES

Supervisor Paul submitted the report of Committee 13 on sheriffs, constables, and justices' fees and other charges against the county. Sheriff Rehder's $339.28 listing was cut down to $243.78. The sum of $192 was thrown off the $243.78 item submitted by Chief Charles Quisling of Deloit but another of his statements regarding $354.00 got by unscathed. No changes were made in Chief Anthony's listing of $155.50 and $239.00. An item of $2.22 presented by Assistant Chief Fred Gillman of Brainerd was cut to $2.70. These fees go into the municipal or town or village coffers and not into private pockets. The bill of the 13th district for $200 for a "very delicate" operation on a little girl's eyes and her subsequent care was at first disallowed, but was subsequently reconsidered and referred to the committee for an investigation. After $2 had been sheared off the heavy charges, a bill submitted by C. E. Garthwaite of Milton for services in the action of the State vs. George Cotton was allowed. The bill of J. A. Thompson was re-referred to the committee.

TO CALL FOR BIDS

The building committee was directed by a resolution to call for bids for the construction of an addition to the county asylum which the board proposes to erect at an estimated cost of $11,500, and the matter was made a special order of business for this afternoon. It was thought that the board might possibly finish its deliberations this afternoon.

FINANCIAL WAR IS DUE AT SUPERIOR

City and County May Become Involved in Legal Difficulties Over Tax Levy.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Manitowish, Wis., Nov. 11.—Existing differences are in prospect between the city and county over financial matters. The county board at its adjourned meeting Wednesday afternoon was notified that the city legal department believed the board has no power to levy for more than twelve months at a time, except for back indebtedness. It was intimated that the city would refuse to bid its 83 cents per cent of the county levy in the roll this year if the board insisted on the cash basis policy adopted. The total county levy was fixed at $29,850, of which about $97,000 is levied on the cash basis policy. The $29,850 is levied on the cash basis policy. EAGLES CONSIDER BUILDING PLANS

MATTER WILL BE DISCUSSED AT A SPECIAL MEETING THIS EVENING.

WOULD COST FULLY $30,000

Organization of Stock Company and Erection of Concrete Steel Reinforced Structure Part of Plans.

This evening, at the special meeting of the Janesville Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the question of the organization of a stock company for the purpose of erecting a modern, up-to-date club house and business block will be one of the subjects discussed. The plan as outlined by several members, who are interested, is that a stock company be organized, stock sold to the members of the Aerie, and others who desire to purchase it as an investment, paying a fixed rate of interest.

A three story building, located in the business district, built of steel and reinforced concrete, with stores on the first floor, offices in the front of the second floor, with the Eagles' club rooms in the rear, and a dance hall, lodge room and reception hall on the top floor. The basement could be utilized for bowling alleys or a Turkish bath and barber shop. The building to be equipped with the most modern conveniences.

As a preliminary to the work on the plan, the city has been secured by individual members so that the matter can be presented in the form of a definite proposition. It is estimated that such a building as suggested would cost in the neighborhood of thirty thousand dollars, this to include the purchase price of the ground.

Such a building would be a valuable addition to the city and would make an ideal place for holding dances and club gatherings. The top floor would be so arranged that it could be divided into smaller rooms for afternoon card parties, with a kitchen and means for serving large gatherings and at the same time be used for the lodge rooms of the order. J. C. Nichols, president of the Aerie, said in speaking of the plan: "Of course as yet this has only been the talk of a few members, but it appears to have struck a popular chord. It would mean considerable work on the part of the various committees named to secure the land and finance the company, but I think it could be accomplished. At tonight's meeting we expect to discuss the matter thoroughly and while we may not definitely decide the question, it will probably take definite form."

"The Aerie has over four hundred members and is steadily growing. If each member took one share, which has been suggested at twenty-five dollars, it would give us an excellent working capital. I do not doubt that the remainder of the stock would be subscribed in large blocks as I have been informed of two offers to take $5000 even before the plans are definitely arranged."

Aside from the discussion of the building project there will be the annual nominating of officers for the coming year and a social session at the lodge rooms this evening and a most interesting evening is promised. The local Aerie is also laying plans for inviting the 1911 state convention of the order to Janesville. This would mean that for three days delegates of the order from all over the state would be present. It would probably be held in July and if the lodge secures the convention it is planned to make the fourth of July celebration one of the features of the convention week.

GROWN PRINCE WHO MAY NEVER REACH THE THRONE.
Prince Constantine of Greece.

Athens.—It is not at all improbable that King George of Greece may soon abdicate his throne. The latest trouble arose when the chamber of deputies refused to grant the crown prince the right to hold the position of commander-in-chief of the army.

At the suggestion of his father, Prince Constantine then resigned, as did his two brothers, from the army.

This direct blow against the king has had its effect and a result the situation is believed to be incompatible with the retention of the throne.

Tactics.

So far as history gives us any information on the subject, the father of "tactics" in the military sense, was the great Theban general, Epaminondas, who, at the famous battle of Leuctra, B. C. 371, fought between the Thebans and Spartans, for the first time introduced the scientific mode of fighting. Prior to that time two universal rules were for the opposing armies to face each other and fight it out by sheer brute force and lullaby tenacity, without any particular regard for scientific principles.

BOARD SUSPENDED SAMUEL P. BROWN

For Twenty Days for Unladylike Usage of Disorderly Persons—Officer Mason's Hearing Monday.

Officer Samuel Brown appeared before the fire and police commission last evening to answer to two charges of cruel and inhuman treatment preferred against him by City Attorney Maxfield, at the instance of the common council. The first alleged offense was concerned with William Monroe, who claims to have been abused on the afternoon of October 19, and the second related to a little encounter with Archie Northway on the night of October 26.

Monroe testified that he and a friend were holding sweet converse on Milwaukee street when a stranger approached and invited them to have a drink from a bottle behind a neighboring billboard. Thanks to one officer's happiness, prosperity and longevity were just being offered when the unwelcome intruder put in an appearance and address Monroe, exclaiming his remarks with some very unladylike epithets and interjections. "You WILL stand here, WILL YOU?" Without further ado, according to Monroe, the officer then struck him on either side of the head. Witness went to the office of a physician and also showed the wound to certain members of the fire and police commission at the time.

Archie Northway was not present to press his charges, but two men who claimed to have witnessed the incident gave testimony. According to their recitals Northway was under the influence of liquor when Brown accosted him in front of the First National bank on Milwaukee street. According to the first witness there was a brief colloquy between the two which ended with Brown's striking Northway on the head and knocking him towards the street-car track. After that the officer was alleged to have followed the man into the street and to have delivered two more blows there and another one when they had reached the sidewalk and the prisoner was apparently trying to walk along and obey orders as best he could. The second witness testified along the same lines, stating that he was standing across the street when his attention was attracted by the sound of the blows upon Northway's head. Both claimed that the officer hit the prisoner five times.

Officer Brown declared that Northway resisted arrest; that he had struck the man but twice; and that blood was drawn the last time by a flesh wound about an inch long. The following communication was received at police headquarters this morning:

November 10, 1909.
George M. Appleby,
Chief of Police.
You are hereby notified that the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners have suspended Samuel P. Brown as a police officer for twenty days, without pay, beginning Nov. 11, 1909.
CLAUDE J. HESBROCKS,
Secretary of Board of Police and Fire Commissioners, city of Janesville.

The hearing of the charges against Officer William Mason will take place at the city hall next Monday evening at eight o'clock. Officer Champion did not resume his duties as expected this morning and there was a prospect that the police force would be crippled for a time at least.

Apportionment of the Tax Is Fixed by County Board

At the county board meeting this morning Supervisor P. E. Livermore of the committee on equalization submitted the annual report and it was adopted without opposition. The apportionment to the various towns, cities, and villages is made on a basis of a total valuation for the county of $4,250,000, an increase of $250,000 over the valuation assigned last year. The total returned this year by the assessors was $4,232,141.

Sanitarium Methods Explained

The Beloit Riverview Sanitarium will publish a series of articles which will give information of incalculable value to all who are sick or ailing. It will tell the man or woman who is sick how to regain health, and it will tell the healthy man how to remain healthy. The articles will deal with important diseases and will contain sufficient information so that the reader may judge for himself as to his or her physical condition. The aim will be to help you decide for yourself whether your physical condition is normal, and if it is not, methods will be suggested for a permanent cure. The correct mode of living will also be explained.

Beloit Riverview Sanitarium

Was established primarily so that the patient might have an ideal place to live during treatment and have the constant care of a skilled physician, both extremely important points in the cure of sickness. We assist nature in throwing off your disease. Treatment consists of baths of all kinds, including Hot Springs Baths, Nauheim Baths, Medicated Baths and Electric Light Baths. Electricity is used in all its forms. Massage, Swedish Movements, Vibration and Resistant Movements are given. Rest is used in some cases and in other cases a special form of diet or food is given. In addition we have a laboratory thoroughly equipped to make an expert chemical or microscopical diagnosis for your benefit. The sanitarium teaches you how to live properly, which food is suitable for your system, and how this should be eaten. You are taught how to keep yourself healthy for the remainder of your life, which is invaluable to you.

Your case is carefully watched by a skilled physician from the moment you enter the sanitarium until you depart cured. Our specialty is diseases of the Bowels, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Heart, and Nervous System. Seventy-five to eighty-five per cent of these cases are curable by sanitarium methods and in the incurable cases we will greatly relieve conditions. The sanitarium method of treatment is recognized by medical authorities as a positive and economical way of getting results because the patient is under the constant care of skilled physicians and alert nurses. Symptoms are not overlooked as they frequently are in home life, thereby prolonging the course of the disease, wasting valuable time and losing money.

WOULD HANG NEGRO FOR KILLING GIRL

HE'S TURNED BACK FROM EVERY POINT WHILE FLEEING.

SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED

Alleged Slayer of Cairo Girl Narrowly Escapes Lynching from Hands of Infuriated Populace—Three Counties in State of Uprising.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 11.—Somewhere between this city and Murphysboro, in the custody of Sheriff Davis and two deputies, is William James, alias "The Frog," the negro charged with the killing of Annie Pelley, whose mangled and mutilated body was found in an alley here.

Three counties are practically in a state of general uprising.

After the sheriff removed the prisoner from the county jail here last evening to avoid a lynching, he was turned back from possible havens to the north, where he had hurried the alleged murderer.

Starting for Murphysboro, the posse was forced to leave the Illinois Central train at Dongola, to escape a mob gathered at Anna, Miss Pelley's former home.

At Dongola open threats of violence were made, and the prisoner was spirited away in a buggy over country roads.

Sheriff Davis is reported to have resorted to the last alternative and started for a point where he can catch a fast train to Chicago, to beg the courtesy of Sheriff Strassheim of Cook county and place James in safety. This report has not been verified.

Indignation Everywhere.

Messages over the wires from points in Union, Pulaski and Alexander counties make it plain that nowhere within their limits will the negro be safe from mob attack. The feeling in Anna, the family home of Miss Pelley, is more intense than at any other point. The wave of indignation has swept as far north as Murphysboro, however, and even had the sheriff dodged the mob at Anna, his prisoner would stand but little more chance if placed in the jail in the other town.

Confession Is Reported.

That James had confessed the crime, or at least a share of it, was reported, and the rumor brought public indignation to the boiling point.

Crowds have poured into Cairo all day from surrounding villages, and open threats of lynching are being made on every hand. All day the town has been in a state of turmoil, and two general attacks were made on the jail, in addition to the many attempts at gathering together a mob strong enough in numbers to carry the prison.

Only the removal of the negro from Cairo saved his life, the authorities say.

REFUSE TO ADMIT CONFESSION.

Charges Against Organized Craft Are Practically Nullified by Judges.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Jury fixing charges brought by State's Attorney Wayman and which he claimed was the first of his sweeping accusations of organized craft were practically nullified by Judges Rhinaker, Barnes and Hanora in the public hearing of the case, when they refused to admit as evidence the alleged confession secured by Mr. Wayman from Nicholas J. Martin, secretary to Alderman Michael J. Kenna.

The "confession," now shown to be unguessed and repudiated by Martin, is the supposed positive proof which Mr. Wayman yesterday promised the three judges he would submit to support his charges that Willis J. Ingburn, John J. Holland and Martin tampered with the jury drawing.

A sudden end was put to the proceedings when the Martin "confession" was termed by the judges as a nearby and "runners" without value in court. Wayman had hung his whole case on the "confession" and when it was refused he said he had nothing else to offer. So sure was he that it would be accepted that he prepared copies and gave them out before the afternoon session began.

The failure of State's Attorney Wayman to get into the proceedings the Martin "confession" and the sudden conclusion of his case were greeted as a victory by the jury commissioners and their attorneys.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

READ THE ADS.

"The first thing I do after glancing at the headlines of a newspaper or the table of contents of a magazine is to turn to the advertisements."

The speaker was a well known Lyceum lecturer.

"Why do you do that?" was asked. "I am obliged to do so if I am to keep in touch with the world," was the reply.

He who keeps his eyes wide open for the signboards that point the way the world is going must not overlook the advertising pages.

Especially is this true of the things that make life worth while. If the invention is new and practical, if it saves labor, if it ministers to comfort, you will find an advertisement of it.

Some persons object to large quantities of advertising, which is a mistake.

The advertising makes the reading matter possible. Were it not for the advertising you would not be able to buy your favorite magazine for 10 or 15 cents or your newspaper for 1 or 2 cents.

The advertiser "pays the freight." "But what of the quality of advertised articles?" asks one. "I have all ways questioned that."

A big mistake.

Advertising costs a lot of money. And the only way to get returns from it is to do a large volume of business. And to do a large business the advertiser must be truthful and backed up by the right sort of goods.

It is easily seen that to build up a permanent business there must be quality in the thing offered.

Indeed, it may be stated that the mere fact that an article is widely and steadily advertised is an assurance on the quality of that article.

"Fancy, if you can, what a dull world this would be if all the advertisements were cut out. It would be like walking through a business street where there were no signs."

Rudyard Kipling wrote to a friend who sent him a magazine with the advertisements cut out, thinking Kipling would not care for the latter:

"The next time send me the advertisements only. I can write my own stories."

Advertisements are signboards, show windows and salesmen, combined for your convenience.

It not only pays to advertise, but it pays to read advertising.

Link and Pin IMMENSE TUBE IS NEARLY COMPLETED

See Line Furnishing Heaviest Construction Job West of Washington to Enter St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 11.—The big Soo Line tube, 1,380 feet in length and thirty-four feet wide, will be completed this week and the enormous construction work which has been in progress for a year will be completed six weeks before the end of the tunnel.

The limit set for the contractors. The work is the heaviest job of concrete construction ever attempted west of Washington, D. C., and has been rushed night and day for months. It was made necessary by the congested condition of Saint Paul's railway terminals and in order to gain an adequate entrance to the city the railway was forced to borrow under the tracks of several other railways, through a high bluff and out upon an area brought down to grade for tracks only after high bluffs had been razed and carried bodily away.

Unlike the Selby tunnel, the only other job of similar magnitude ever attempted in Saint Paul, the Soo Line bore was not open work. The tunnel was constructed from both ends at once, the crews excavating the earth, settling temporary arches and filling bottom, sides and roof with concrete. The tunnel is completed is a solid concrete tube big enough for a double track line, and so strongly reinforced with steel bars and rods that it will stand even the strains of an earthquake.

Gravel and clay were encountered in the bore, and considerable water added to the problems of the construction engineers. By means of pumps the tunnel was kept clear while the work progressed.

In addition to the tunnel the railway has entered a large section in what was once the extramural part of the city, and after razing the bluffs and hills has erected huge freight warehouses and laid out ample trackage for future necessities. Although the total length of the new terminals is two and a half miles the heaviest work was encountered in a comparatively restricted district. The job is one of the costliest ever attempted by a railway in the Northwest, but provides terminals which could not have been obtained by other means and which will be adequate for many years to come.

Chicago and North-Western.

Numerous runs on the Wisconsin Division are posted as being open to application by firemen and engineers in a bulletin received this morning. Among them are runs 581 and 584 between Baraboo and Chicago for an engineer; 588 and 595 between Chicago and Janesville for an engineer; 599 and 602 between Chicago and Elroy for a fireman with Engineer A. H. Brown; 551 and 581 between Chicago and Baraboo for a fireman with Engineer J. E. Elch; one job as fireman in the south end pool with Engineer S. Barber; and one piece as night dispatcher at Janesville. Applications are valid after Nov. 20.

Class B engines are without a doubt all the fifteen varieties when it comes to hauling stock trains.

Engine 1508, piloted by Engineer M. J. Padden, jerked a train of twenty-five stock cars from Janesville to Mayfield recently in one hour and forty-five minutes. The train left the yards five minutes ahead of 504 and arrived in Mayfield with ten minutes to the good, bettering 504's time by five minutes.

None of the new freight locomotives just received by the road will be seen in Janesville unless radical changes are made in the roundhouse and turn table. The new class B's are large but they can be turned on the table while the freight engines are five or six feet too long for the seventy-foot table and would probably leave about half of the tender exposed if placed in the roundhouse.

Some interesting figures are given by the master mechanic of the Northern Division with reference to some of the different engine specialties in an effort to secure the aid of the engineers in carrying out extravagant demands for the articles. Blizard lumps are sold to the company $1 each; brooms, $2; and scoops, $42.

Traffic conditions on the road are not in the same class with the congested condition that prevails at the New Hotel. Engine men and train crews are compelled to wait three and four hours for a place to sleep and many of them bunk on the tables or on a mattress placed on the floor.

Engineer Charles Yates is laying off sick. Engineer Kauffman is dispatched in his place while Engineer Cole has Kauffman's place on the night switch-engine.

Engineer O. E. Strampe has been called in to Pond du Lac to run on the road. Fireman Deland is taking his place with Engineer Erdman.

Engineer Wilke is dispatching shifts in place of Fireman Lewis, who is laying off on account of illness in his family.

Engineer Dudley and Fireman Coen are relieving Engineer Shelds and Fireman Davey on the motor-car runs.

It is reported that Conductor Henry Smith had his great toe so badly crushed by a falling trap door Tuesday that it had to be amputated. Conductor Burnett is taking his place.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

Several of the morning passenger trains were over an hour late this morning for various reasons. The Mineral Point passenger, number 21, was held up for 55 minutes along the line and 121 was held until 11:15 in order to transfer a large amount of baggage. The 121 was also delayed as engine 569 brought the train from Chicago. The 569 was substituted last night when engine 911 was taken off and sent to the house for repairs.

Runs 21 and 6 on the Mineral Point and Prairie du Chien Divisions with Engineer Hobbs have been posted as being open to firemen for application.

Engineer Bush took Engineer Kobler's place on 191 and 192 last night. Fireman Kellender had Bush's place on 172 and 173 last night with Engineer Dawes.

Engineer Williamson and Fireman Rooney returned from the east this morning at 3:25 on an extra with engine 1752.

Engineer Hillemeier and Fireman Dooley were on the Mineral Point west-freight runs yesterday. Fireman Shelds is taking Dooley's place on the night switch-engine with Engineer Webber.

Engineer Cornelius and Perry Kneeling had the three-spot yesterday. Engineer Higgins and Cornelius have the engine today.

Engineer Smith and Fireman Duxstad took out 165 this morning.

Former Car Clerk Ed. Angle has secured a position as switchman and went to work yesterday.

"WHITTALL,"

The mark of quality, woven on the loom. Call and let us explain the merits of Whittall's.

Whittall's Anglo-Persian Rugs

USED exclusively in the magnificent United States senate office building. The finest and most closely woven Wilton Rug produced in the world. These rugs are the fruit of a determination to make the finest floor coverings that can be produced. They are of such beauty and individual charm that the only comparison is the famous rug of the Orient, and with this there is actually no comparison. Why? Because Anglo-Persian Rugs are Oriental in inspiration. Some almost seem to be exact reproductions of the hand-made rugs of the east. The colors have been reproduced rightly, designs are correct, in a word the Oriental spirit has been caught.

Special Values in Lace Curtains and Curtain Materials

How are we able to make price concessions in the middle of a season? It's this way—First, because we buy direct from the mills, also we import some of our curtains and nets, thus saving jobbers' profits. Second, because of the immense quantity we buy. Manufacturers are willing to make special prices on goods when large enough quantities are bought to make it an object for us. We take pleasure in placing these on sale at the prices quoted below:

RENAISSANCE CURTAINS

Insertion and edge in pretty design. Made on a very fine Brussels net. 36 in. wide, 3 yds. long. The best value ever offered at.....$1.65 a pair

PROSPERITY LOBBIED

While the west knew full well of the paucity of 1908-7, by actual experience, the east felt it very keenly and is still suffering from the effects. In fact, outside of the iron and steel industry, business is still more or less demoralized. Henry Clegg, the New York banker, in discussing the situation says:

"The activity in steel, however, is not proportionately shared by other industries, and the great textile trades are distinctly hampered by the high prices for cotton and wool. Speculation in cotton is being carried to excess, the rise in the staple being out of all proportion to the injury to the crop. In copper also there is excessive manipulation, the danger of which is emphasized by the fact that the price is being advanced in defiance of all economic laws and in the face of continued increases in supplies."

"In many respects the general outlook is very satisfactory, and owing to the unequalled prosperity of the agricultural classes the promises are for at least another year or two of good business. On the other hand, it must not be forgotten that the country is working upon an abnormally high price level; that interest rates are permanently higher; that the speculative mania is difficult to control, and that our prosperity is very unevenly distributed and decidedly lopsided. Some process of equalization is due, and just how this will come cannot be predicted."

"The steel trade cannot keep up its present activity indefinitely; neither can the cotton industry go on without some relief to its present difficulties. Time alone will solve these problems, but they are sufficiently complex to warrant a spirit of caution in all commercial and financial transactions affecting the future. One effect of present high prices is the growing substitution or adulteration of one material by another of inferior grade or less cost."

"Short weights and short measures, too, are often resorted to in order to squeeze out a profit which high costs prevent. Our center of gravity has been raised too high, and lasting stability cannot be expected until equilibrium has restored the equilibrium and prices generally come down to a less speculative level."

A LAW UNTO HIMSELF

Here is what Samuel Gompers says about the recent court decision.

"Concretely stated, the decision of the court declares that no matter whether the injunction of Justice Gould was right or wrong, valid or void, we were compelled to obey. Against that concept, at least for myself, I enter a most emphatic protest. When a judge so far transcends his authority, and assumes functions entirely beyond his power and jurisdiction, when a judge will not himself step up as the highest authority in the land, invading constitutionally guaranteed rights of citizens, when a judge will go so far in opinion, decision, and action, that even judges of the court of appeals have felt called upon to characterize his action 'unwarranted' and 'foolish,' under such circumstances it is the duty of the citizen to refuse obedience and to take whatever consequences may ensue."

"I repeat and emphasize this fact, that the doctrine that the citizen must yield obedience to every order of the court, notwithstanding that order transcends inherent, natural, human rights guaranteed by the constitution of our country, is vicious and repugnant to liberty and human freedom, and that it is the duty, the imperative duty, to protest."

This sentiment, if generally entertained, would mean a reign of lawlessness, and the overthrow of government. The average citizen obeys the law, not because he fears it, but because he respects it. When deprived of either respect or fear he becomes a law unto himself and is enrolled in the list of lawbreakers.

Mr. Gompers—and the men associated with him—was engaged in a lawless boycott which he knew to be morally wrong and which he soon discovered was in violation of law. There is no ground for defense, either in the court of appeals or the larger tribunal of public opinion.

Law is the expression of public sentiment on all questions, and the mission of the courts is to enforce obedience whenever it becomes necessary. Mr. Gompers was a willful violator, and there is no reason why he should not suffer the consequences.

A CLEAN DAILY PAPER

There is published in the city of Boston a daily paper which contains all the news of the world, well edited, has an editorial page which is exceptionally strong, and a make-up that would be a credit to any office.

The paper is unlike any other published in this country, because it is absolutely clean. No murders, no scandals and no accidents are recorded.

It is a paper for the home, and while many predictions were made that it would be short-lived, the fact is being demonstrated that there was room in this country for at least one clean metropolitan daily.

The subscription list is growing by leaps and bounds and the advertising columns are crowded. The Christian Science Monitor is the name of the paper, but the name, which is against it, does not prevent its being a good secular newspaper.

The church is not exploited in its columns and there is nothing but the name to indicate that any church is behind it. The Monitor has set a new pace in journalism, which can be followed to good advantage.

HIS PLATFORM

This is the simple platform of Captain Lewis of Racine, who aspires to be governor:

"There isn't a man on earth with power enough to avenge me a hair's breadth from what I consider a square deal and an honest administration. The people of this state can bank on that assertion to the last day of their lives."

"I am for an equal standing of efficiency and ability and a high standard of citizenship."

"I am for freedom and a liberal construction of the constitution which does not interfere with the rights of any one."

"I am for the primary election law, which, though deficient in some of its present workings, I believe to be the only true and full expression of the people's wishes."

"I am for a broad and definite corrupt practices act, which will cover the excessive and illegal expenditure of money to corrupt the electorate. A reasonable limit to be placed upon campaign expenses and the law so made should be enforced."

"I am for everything that is right, just, decent, equitable and honorable, and last but not least, for the state of Wisconsin today, tomorrow and every day thereafter."

Next.

President Taft completed his 12,000 mile trip yesterday and the people of the west and south know him better than they did before. It will be found as time advances that he bears acquaintance well, and his popularity will increase in spite of the efforts of knucklers and backstoppers.

Now that President Taft is back in Washington, Collier's and the Chicago Tribune will be relieved of the responsibility of running the government. The contract was a little heavy for small caliber, and it is not surprising that things were getting badly mixed up.

Butter and eggs will soon be luxuries and all on account of the tariff. Milk is also on the jump, and steak is out of sight. This robber tariff is paying havoc with products of the farm.

The bookworm of the south is a sensitive proposition, and Mr. Rockefeller's donation is not fully appreciated.

The jungles of South Africa have discovered that Col. Roosevelt is neither dead nor sleeping.

Why was not our senator invited to the White House conference? Echo answers.

PRESS COMMENT.

Weather is All Right.
The Superior Telegram concedes that: "Anyhow we are getting pretty good fall weather under the new tariff law."

And Some Others.
Menasha's Record states that hunting accidents will accompany the hunting season just as long as children and brainless chaps are granted hunting licenses.

Just Think of That!
The Green Bay Gazette writes: "It is said that the present visit of Senator Aldrich to the west is the first one he has made in twenty years. It is time that he came and got posted on the people and their needs. He could probably use a great deal of this information in congress if he only would."

No, Nor Have a Job.
The Marinette Eagle-Star hits just right when it says that the University of Wisconsin president, who advocates the abolition of the summer vacation and school work for twelve months instead of nine or ten, will not be president if the boys have anything to say about it. His proposition will be received with consternation by young America.

Long, Long Ago.

The Eau Claire Leader announces that the entire board of regents of the university of West Virginia will spend two weeks in January studying the University of Wisconsin in its organization, methods of instruction, buildings and equipment. The state university has earned the reputation of being the greatest state institution of its kind in the United States.

It Is High.

The Appleton Post, which is in the center of the paper business of the state, announces that the paper manufacturers have reason to feel very well satisfied with business conditions. Orders are coming in more rapidly and in better volume than before for two years. * * * Book papers took a modest advance a couple of weeks ago, and there have been two advances of ten cents a hundred in print paper within a month or so past.

Wants More Pay.

The Wausau Record-Moran is much exercised over the fact that fifty-two cents a day is paid to some teachers in Wisconsin, according to a report made at the teachers' convention at Milwaukee. The fact is a disgrace to the community where such a condition exists. The educator of the children should at least receive as much as any profession requiring the same amount of training and ability.

Here Is Socialism.

As usual, the Milwaukee Journal has excuses to make for men convicted of offenses against the public laws and explains its position by saying: "The Journal has always taught respect for the courts and veneration of the law. Yet it does not believe that justice is always impartially administered. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison are sentenced to imprisonment because they did not respect the court. Meanwhile men of great wealth who violate the law itself are not prosecuted, nor not punished. One law for all, a law enforced against all, is what justice demands."

Make Complaints.

The Racine Journal discovers that something is doing when Receiver Eale of the Philadelphia sugar refinery, driven out of business by the trust, does not mince words, saying all the evidence was given to ex-President Roosevelt and Atty. General Bonaparte with nothing being done.

No Cheaper Yet.

The Appleton Post announces that people who have been depending upon the report that the American automobile manufacturers were going to make 200,000 machines next year and have been counting upon it to either cheapen the price of the product or make deliveries more prompt and certain, may need to revise their plans about purchasing in view of later intelligence which greatly reduces the probable number of machines to be turned out. While the car manufacturers have been getting ready to build 200,000 cars the men furnishing parts have not swelled out correspondingly.

These Blue Laws.

The Fond du Lac Reporter goes after the blue laws by saying: "It is in this failure to grant freedom of conscience to his neighbor that the blue law advocate fails. The man who wishes to attend a ball game, go fishing, take an automobile ride or a trip in his launch, attend the theatre or a concert at the park on Sunday, never attempts to pass a law compelling his neighbor to do any of these things or refrain from doing them, but many men who have conscientious scruples against doing any of these things themselves also demand that their neighbors shall not do them. As a result of this attitude on the part of the 'holier than thou' class we have our statute books cumbered with a lot of unenforced laws that are a constant and unnecessary menace to the religious freedom of the country. It is not surprising, therefore, for a great city like New York, where people of every shade of religious belief the world knows, are congregated in one government, that any attempt to force the observance of some one particular class upon the whole, should be strongly resisted."

On the Street Nights.

The Watkinson Post believes that Herbert Spencer's advice is being followed by the average parent. They "leave their children to be taught by the penalties that life inflicts."

The Bibulous Bee.

No creature is more apt to become a hopeless dipsomaniac than the honey bee. The flowers deliberately trade on the weakness and make their honey intoxicating simply to give the bee an irresistible taste for it and induce the deluded insect to make continual calls at their bar.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

Lives of great men all remind us that it pays to advertise; every day of life should find us making all the people wise, to our coming and our going—nothing GREAT comes to him who's coy; all MEN, our wares we should be showing. If the Unlighted we'd enjoy. Let us seek the bland reporters if they do not hunt for us; seek them in their dismal quarters, in their lanky, rusty muses; giving them our warm opinions of all things beneath the sky; over all the earth's dominions let imagination fly. Famous men? The crowds adore 'em! Lions thrive in every land! Let us keep our names before 'em, and they'll cheer to beat the band! Let our pictures oft be printed, lest the people should forget, even though the section (that is the only place we get). Better have our faces beaming on the pink or yellow page, than to have the people dreaming that we are no more the rage. Advertising! Let the grocer pay for space to bill his name; shall we do it? Not for Joe, sir! That is not the great Men's game; we are onto smoother capers than the merchants often see; we have learned to work the papers, and to get our booming free.

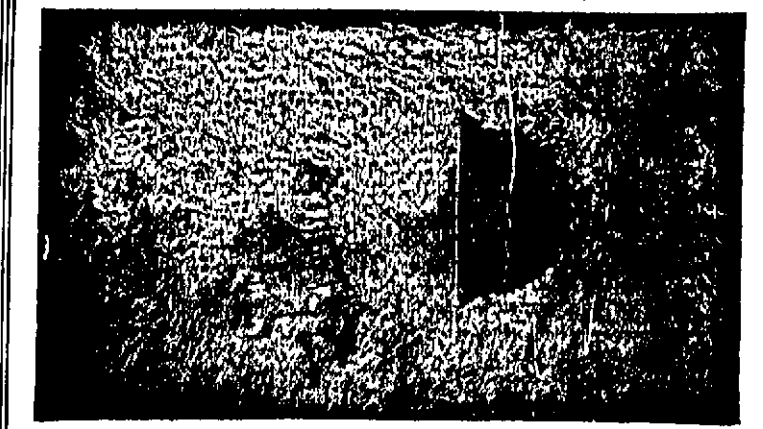

STOPS SETTLEMENT

OF SUGAR CO'S FIGHT

Order is Granted Which Forbids in Effect the Compromise Agreed Upon.

New York, Nov. 11.—The litigation between the American Sugar Refining Company and the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company came to a sudden halt just when a final adjustment of the case was in sight. On the application of George Gordon Battle and H. Snowden Marshall, Judge Holt, in the United States circuit court, granted a restraining order which forbids in effect the compromise agreed upon whereby the so-called trust was to pay George H. Earle, Jr., receiver of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, $1,250,000 and return to the bondholders $1,250,000 in bonds held as collateral for a loan extended to Adolph Segal. Segal, as president of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, had accepted this loan, giving the bonds as security, which, in turn, enabled the American Sugar Refining Company to bring about the closing of the smaller plant. The Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company brought suit for $20,000,000 damages, but withdrew it on consideration of the settlement as outlined. Read the ads and save money.

A Sale of Furs That Many Women Have Been Waiting For Friday and Saturday, Nov. 12th and 13th

The representative of the Great Fur House of Wm. H. Miller & Co., of Detroit, will be with us with Miller's extensive line of furs. The House of Miller & Co. has grown to be the largest all around fur house in America. They deal in a high grade of furs. By "high" we mean reliable, dependable furs THAT THEY CAN GUARANTEE, but not high in price. Before buying furs we went over the ground thoroughly and MILLER was the only House in our judgment, backed by many years of fur buying—we say the only house that could deliver the goods. Their assortments were the largest, their variety the greatest, their prices the lowest commensurate with good qualities. The agent will have with him, all of the popular furs and will deliver any piece selected, also be prepared to take special measures for fur garments. It is not necessary to go into further details, as the furs will show for themselves. A specialty will be made of fine fur sets and fur coats.

Making Himself Heard.

Samuel Rogers, the poet, is no doubt a great wit, but he has a turn for malice and even brutality. Some one once asked him why he never opened his mouth except to speak evil of his neighbors. He replied: "I have a very weak voice, and if I did not say malicious things I should never be heard."—Memoirs of the Duchess of Dino.

Gold Crowning

I am making more gold crowns for people every day. I like to do this work because it gives the patient a strong useful tooth that will last for years and usually for a life time.

I make a charge of only five dollars so that people who need teeth crowned, but cannot afford to pay eight or ten dollars for the work, are able to secure this permanent improvement of their teeth.

My method of crowning is a very successful one and I can guarantee my work to be perfectly satisfactory for years.

DISCOVER TOOTH OF AN EXTINCT MAMMAL

Workmen Dig Up Tooth at Cement Shingle Company's Gravel Pit.

Workmen at the Janesville Cement Shingle Company's gravel pit on the south side are on the lookout for the remains of the skeleton of some prehistoric monster, part of which was found yesterday, thirty-five feet below the surface of the earth. The piece in question, which is now in the possession of Dr. F. G. Wolcott, is said to be a tooth from some enormous mammal now extinct. It is eight inches long and about five and one-half inches in diameter and must have been deposited in the sand some time during the glacial period, thousands of years ago.

INTERESTING LECTURE.

On the evening of November 15th, Prof. J. C. Monaghan of New York City will deliver a lecture on Socialism at the Knights of Columbus Hall, on the fifth floor of the Jackson Block. Prof. Monaghan speaks under the auspices of Carroll Council, which in turn will donate the proceeds of the lecture to the boys' surplus club of St. Mary's Church.

With reference to Prof. Monaghan it is unnecessary to say anything by way of introduction as he is one of the most eminent and best known lecturers before the public. His treatise on the subject of socialism is a thorough and at the same time pleasing manner.

Following the lecture Carroll Council will hold an informal reception and dancing party to which all who attend the lecture are invited.

The Odor of Clay.
The peculiar odor of clay is unquestionably due to organic ingredients. Although this cannot be isolated or detected by chemical analysis, they can be classified according to their physiological effects, which vary widely. Holland has succeeded in transferring the odor of clay to an odorless iron and has thus recognized 10 distinct varieties. Louis has made similar observations, employing ammonia as a vehicle for the odors.

A GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI

Win. A. Brady and Joseph R. Grismer will present "A Gentleman from Mississippi," the now famous comedy which has made New York scream of laughter for more than twelve months past and has tickled Chicago no less. It is the one play that has seemed weather-proof both in Chicago and New York, having played to the capacity of the theatres in both cities during the most torrid periods.

Wonderfully realistic is the stage reproduction of the old international hotel in Washington, where the action of "A Gentleman from Mississippi" is developed. This venerable hostelry is unique among American hotels. Webster, Clay, "Fido" Stevens, and scores of other old-time statesmen lived there, and in one of its rooms was born the conspiracy that led to Abraham Lincoln's tragic taking off. The first act of this clever comedy is played in an exact reproduction of the lobby, even to the famous picture of Washington crossing the Delaware.

Maxwell-Hall Stock Company
A company somewhat different and far above the average playing at popular prices is what is sold of the Maxwell-Hall stock company which is booked for a week's engagement at Myers Theatre commencing next Monday evening, Nov. 15th.

The company, which numbers sixteen ladies and gentlemen, is headed by Miss Gertrude Matland, who is said to be one of the handsomest and most gorgeously gowned women on the American stage. Miss Matland is also a musician of considerable note, being a member of the musical fraternity of Boston, her home, and she also bears the distinction of being the only lady who has ever conducted a season of comic opera in New York city. During the week Miss Matland will give a number of her pianologues which have created such a sensation during her engagements in other cities.

Managers Maxwell and Hall have surrounded Miss Matland with a very

WOMAN WILL TALK ON BIG FOUR STEAL

MRS. FORD-STEWART WILL TELL INSIDE STORY OF BIG THEFT.

DENIES BLACKMAIL STORY

Quarrel with Woman Breaks Her Silence—Warriner Is Said to Be Not Only Penniless, But Physical Wreck as Well.

Cincinnati, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Jeannette Stewart, the woman known as Mrs. Ford, one of the women accused by Charles L. Warriner, the defaulting local treasurer of the Big Four railroad, of having shared in his speculations by blackmailing him, declared last night she would tell the whole inside story of the $612,000 theft when the case came to court. At the same time Mrs. Stewart denied she had ever received money from Warriner.

Quarrel Breaks Silence.
The sudden breaking of the silence she has persistently maintained was caused, according to her own statement, by a quarrel which she had with another woman, who has also been mentioned by Warriner.

At the present time the question which is exercising the railroad officials is, what became of the $612,000 which Warriner admits having stolen? Warriner claims he lost it in stock gambling and in satisfying the demands of blackmailers, but that explanation is not satisfactory to the officials.

Warriner Physical Wreck.
Whether Warriner is penniless, as he asserts, his neighbors at his home in Wyomissing, O., declare he is a physical wreck.

It is admitted by the railroad officers that Warriner might have continued his depredations indefinitely if he had not been betrayed by a woman, and that even then he might still have fooled his superiors, so great was their confidence in him.

HAMBURG BELLE, 2:01 1/2, IS DEAD.

Queen of Trotting Turf Succumbs to Pneumonia in Georgia.

Thompson, Ga., Nov. 11.—Hamburg Belle, 2:01 1/2, queen of the trotting turf, is dead.

Though brought south to escape the rigors of a northern winter, the famous mare died at the stock farm of her owner, near this place, of pneumonia.

Hamburg Belle was bought by Mel Hanna of Cleveland, O., a few months ago for $50,000. The mare registered as Sully Simmons II., made three world's records at the North Randall track near Cleveland on August 25 last, in her match race with the black horse Uddan. Her first heat was trotted in 2:01 1/2, the fastest mile ever trotted in a race, and two seconds faster than the previous record held by Ceresus. The second heat was trotted in 2:01 1/2, the fastest second heat trotted in a race, and the race itself was the fastest two heats.

PROFITS FROM INHERITANCE TAX

New York Reaps $1,000,000 from John S. Kennedy Estate.

New York, Nov. 11.—The inheritance taxes on the estate of John S. Kennedy, the millionaire banker who died recently leaving nearly half of his $60,000,000 estate to public institutions and societies, will not the state of New York over $1,000,000, according to lawyers familiar with such matters.

About $24,500,000 of the bequests will be exempt from the tax, as they are made to public institutions incorporated under the laws of the state.

The widow and other relatives will pay about $650,000 on the bequests which they receive.

BANKER PARKS IS FINED $4,000.

Pleads Guilty to Indictment for Violating Anti-Trust Law.

New York, Nov. 11.—John H. Parks, author of a pooling plan and combination under which the Manila and Fiber Paper Manufacturers' association was operated, and who was indicted last July by the federal grand jury for violation of the anti-trust law, surrendered himself to the authorities and pleaded guilty to the indictment in the United States circuit court. Judge Hough fined Parks $4,000.

Twenty-three of the 24 companies which made up the Manila and Fiber Paper Manufacturers' association pleaded guilty over a year ago to violating the Sherman anti-trust act and were each fined $2,000. Parks went to Europe at the time of the investigation and has been there since.

FRUSTRATE A TRAIN ROBBERY.

Two Robbers Are Arrested, Another Is Killed by the Cars.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 11.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to loot the American Express train on the New York Central railroad east of Lyons last night.

Two of the bandits were arrested by the trainmen. A third man fell under the train and was killed.

Will Penalize Employees.

New York, Nov. 11.—Announcement was made by President Brown of the New York Central lines that at a meeting of the board of directors of the New York Central, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, and Michigan Central Companies, plans for a pension system for employees of these lines were adopted. The system is to be extended without delay to the subsidiary lines forming part of the New York Central system.

It is plain and plain, more than space and quantity, that make a good advertisement.

MME. STEINHEIL NEAR VICTORY OVER STATE

Testimony Now Being Adduced at Her Trial Is Distinctly in Her Favor.

Paris, Nov. 11.—Testimony distinctly favorable to Mme. Steinheil, charged with the murder of her husband and her stepmother, was brought at the seventh day of her trial.

Muriella Wolf, the cook in the Steinheil household, and her son, Alexandre, whose appearance was awaited with profound interest, threw no new light on the mystery, but by a further mass of contradictions strengthened the impression in the accused woman's favor. Mme. Steinheil's nurse also retracted her previous deposition in which she expressed the opinion that the defendant's illness after the crime was simulated, and Maurice Nordens, a wealthy merchant, whom the state assumes Mme. Steinheil desired to marry, testified to his absolute belief in her innocence.

The state's circumstantial case against Mme. Steinheil seems to be rapidly breaking down and it is already rumored that the trial may be abandoned and a new investigation ordered.

JURY LAUDS MAN FOR KILLING.

Valentine B. Caught Is Acquitted of Slaying Insults of Women.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—In one of the most remarkable verdicts ever rendered in a criminal case a jury in Judge Crowe's branch of the municipal court found Valentine B. Caught not guilty in connection with the death of John A. Heston, who died October 21 following a blow struck by Caught in defense of several girls.

The jury commended Caught's gallantry, and in unusual terms declared that he had asserted his manhood by acting as he did.

The verdict says in part: "From the evidence offered the jury are of the opinion that the deceased was intoxicated and that he used foul and unseemly language to various young women and girls in the vicinity, and finally directed his vile epithets and evil abuse against the said Caught, who was having his shoes shined at the time, and whose character of his maternal ancestor brought into question in a manner vile in the extreme, naturally resented the same by mixing up with the deceased. The jury are of the opinion that he was justified in resenting the insult offered."

PLOT TO KILL KING MANUEL.

London Takes Precautions to Prevent Assassination of Monarch.

London, Nov. 11.—Precautions even more elaborate than those taken in connection with the journey of King Alfonso of Spain are being taken by the Portuguese police agents and the Scotland Yard authorities in connection with the visit of King Manuel to this country next week to court Princess Alexandra, granddaughter of King Edward.

Scotland Yard has been informed of plans made in Portugal to secure the assassination of the young king. Manuel will remain at Windsor eight days, during which time he will go to London to attend the Guildhall banquet in his honor. At the end of his stay at Windsor he will go to London for four days, staying at the Buckingham palace.

From London he will go to Paris and stop at the Bristol hotel for eight days, thence going directly to Lisbon. An attempt will be made to preserve an incognito at Paris.

Petrified Till She Died.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—Death from gradual petrification, the body slowly hardening for a year, until the flesh became as adamant as marble and proof against incisions, was the report made in the case of Mrs. Catherine Barrows, 45 years old, of Rosedale, La., who succumbed in the Charity hospital.

Effect of Electricity.

The average person does not experience any sensation from an electrical current until the pressure reaches about 35 volts.

Margaret Illington "Divorced." Remo, Nev., Nov. 11.—Judge Pike granted Margaret Illington, wife of Daniel Frohman, the New York theatrical manager, a decree of divorce on the ground of non-support.

Buys Town for $3,000,000.
New York, Nov. 11.—The entire town of Woodmere, L. I., consisting of 400 acres of town lots, with 300 residences, has been sold to a real estate company for $3,000,000.

Bankers Are Arrested.
Toledo, O., Nov. 11.—Ernest Roberts and Burton E. Southard, former cashiers of the failed Dorr street Savings bank, were arrested on the charge of perjury.

Janesville Electric Co.

ELECTRIC POWER
FOR MACHINE CO.

JANESVILLE'S BIGGEST FACTORY
TO BE RUN BY ELECTRICITY.

STARTED THIS MORNING

Official Test Came Today—All Departments Will Be Operated by This Power.

When the Janesville Machine company resumed operations with a full force this morning a new power, electricity, turned the wheels in the different departments of the city's largest factory. Yesterday was spent in trying out the newly installed power plant but this morning the real test was made, with every machine from the smallest drill press to the largest bulldozer being run by power generated by the company's new engine and dynamo.

The step taken by the Machine company in changing their motive power from what might be termed direct steam to electricity, marks a distinct advance in industrial civilization and shows that the company is among the most progressive as well as one of the greatest concerns in Janesville.
Not only have they adopted the most modern and economical method of securing their motive power but they have secured the best and most modern machinery for producing it.

Abandoning the old glider frame, single eccentric engine, they have installed a new and more powerful Hamilton-Corlies engine, made by the Hoover, Owens-Reuschler Co. of Hamilton, Ohio. Although both the new and the old machines came from the same firm, the new engine has all the latest improvements—single piece frame, double eccentrics, double port valves, mechanical and hand oil pumps.

Standing on a solid concrete foundation, this machine is rated at 375 horse-power but it can easily produce 500. The cylinder is twenty-four inches in diameter with a thirty-six inch stroke, the crankshaft is eighteen feet long, fourteen inches in diameter at the bearings and sixteen in the center, while the cross head and crank pins are respectively six and seven and one-half inches each way.
The huge flywheel, fourteen feet in diameter, weighs 35,000 pounds and turns at the rate of 120 revolutions a minute. Taken all in all, the engine is the best in the city, built for heavy duty, and is an example of the best Hamilton-Corlies type.

Although this engine will furnish all the power necessary to run the plant at the present time, in case more power is needed another engine can be installed at the free end of the main shaft, in this way doubling the power.

The dynamo which was also installed with the engine, is of the latest model and capable of generating 550 kilowatts and 1,400 amperes.
When necessary an equivalent to 500 horse-power can be produced. The generator is manufactured by the Crocker-Wheeler Co. of Amherst, N. Y., and was installed by their representative, J. P. Woolley, aided by employes of the Machine company.

The small 100 horse-power generator formerly used by the company has been changed into a motor and will be used in the blacksmith shop.
The old Hamilton-Corlies engine, it is thought, will be removed and sold.

L. Single, representative of the Hoover-Owens-Reuschler Co., with the aid of Machine company employes set up the engine in record time. It usually takes about nine days to install an engine of this type, but he was able to finish it last Monday, just seven days from the time he started.
Although there will be considerable trouble up necessary before the engine can be used in its full working condition, the first day's performance was entirely satisfactory.

MONROE BIDS FOR TRAINING SCHOOL

Temporary Quarters and Site for Building Is Offered Made to Green County Board.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Monroe, Wis., Nov. 11.—Monroe made a bid for the county training school for teachers, yesterday afternoon, at a meeting of the county board. The third floor of the old high school building has been offered for the use of the school until permanent quarters are provided. The city council also offered to donate the park on West Russell street for a site on which to erect both a training school and duty school, provided the county board would consent to the two. This property consists of a full block of two and one-half acres and is valued at $8,000.

The matter will come up for consideration next Tuesday afternoon, when the board will send representatives here to confer with the board in regard to determining a location.
Given Out by Fire.

Three Monroe girls were among the number driven from their rooming house at 259 Laughton street, Madison, yesterday morning when the roof of the building caught fire. The girls were forced to leave the building in night attire and their clothing was ruined by water. The Misses Nellie Burke, Frieda Hooley and Eva White, who are attending the university this year, sent word to their parents immediately after the fire and Mr. Hooley, father of one of the girls, and Miss Katie Burke left for Madison at once with clothing for the girls.

Basketball Team.
The Cardinal club management promises a series of basketball games here this winter which will excel anything ever offered heretofore to the public. The opening game will be played between the Cardinals and the Beloit Y. M. C. A. on the evening of December 10. The Cardinal squad is composed of East, captain, Karlson, Krafftman, Bedrick, Walters, Schindler,
Blumer, Kundert, Nosenkewander, Kinsy and Erickson, and with this lineup it is predicted that the Cardinals will share the majority of the honors for the season. Louis, Fred T. Odell has been chosen as referee and umpire, his long experience as a player making him fully capable of handling the rules.
Mrs. John C. Chadwick of Edmonton, Canada, contemplates making a visit to Monroe friends the latter part of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Schindler were surprised by about forty members of the Y. P. A. of Edmonton, Canada, at their home on E. Summit street, the surprise being in the nature of a party. A short musical program was given, after which light refreshments were served by the members of the Alliance.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Crow have taken their departure for Aberdeen,
S. D., where they will take care of a large farm owned by the father of Mrs. Crow.

Mrs. Thos. Heas was called to Madison yesterday in response to a message stating that Mr. Heas has suffered a stroke and is in a serious condition. Mr. Heas was committed to the asylum there several weeks ago.

Louis Williams has sold his farm of 120 acres, three and one-half miles west of Monroe, to Earl Wahl, for $110 per acre.

Mrs. Gertrude Hall of Coleridge,
Neb., is a guest at the home of R. D.
Gilford.

T. J. Barnora has gone to Chilton,
Wis., on professional business.

Percy Holloway has sold his Pope Hartford touring car to Jacob Pigt of Monticello.

Mrs. S. P. Schadel has returned from a visit to relatives at Warren and Freeport.

E. Korman returned yesterday to Cheery station, McHenry county, Ill.
At the time of the Civil war she was a member of Company B, 31st Wis.
infantry, in Capt. N. L. Treut's company, and has been here for the purpose of renewing acquaintance with old comrades.

PORTER.
Patrol, Nov. 9.—Joe Harrington of Edgerton spent a few days with friends last week.

Carl Nelson has completed his summer work at G. W. Nichols'.
A number of the farmers are shud-ding corn these days.

George Parman of Edgerton was a caller at the home of Frank Ross on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Pound of Janesville were callers on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manthel are rejoicing over the arrival of a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earle welcomed another daughter to their home recently.

Miss Kathryn Nichols of Whitewater spent Sunday at home.

Miss Edna Stone, who is teaching in the Eagle district, closed school a couple of days last week to attend the funeral of her uncle in the town of Fulton.

Dean Fessenden of Clinton visited relatives here recently.

Friends here of Mrs. James Murphy of Freeville were very sorry to learn of her death, and sympathize with the sorrowing family. She was well known as she grew to womanhood and had many friends here.

FULTON.
Fulton, Nov. 10.—The second number of the Fulton lecture course comes next Tuesday evening, Nov. 16.
This is to be given by Mrs. Osceola Ponder, entertainer. Let everyone try to be present if possible.

The Misses Kate Crall, Carrie Berg
and Ida Murwin attended the play,
"St. Elmo," at the Myers opera house,
Janesville, last Saturday evening.

Willie Borg is home for a few weeks after spending the past summer in Stoughton.

Next Sunday, Nov. 14th, will be the second quarterly communion in the Congregational church. Rev. Stark of Sun Prairie will conduct the service.

Miss Ida Murwin was an over Sunday guest of Miss Carrie Berg in Janesville.

Rev. Adler of Madison called on friends here last week.

Miss Kate Crall spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Genevieve Ryan in Janesville.

Thumbscrew Again in Vogue.
In olden times thumbscrews were used to torture prisoners into confession and thus gain from them secrets that only intense bodily pain would bring forth; but this, with many other barbarous means of torture, was left be-however, it has made its appearance again, but as a means of self-inflicted torture, says Popular Mechanics. It is the newest and most beautiful bit in Europe and its mission is to squeeze the tips of the fingers until they change from fat and pudgy to long and tapering.

METEOR SHOWERS
SOON TO APPEAR

THE PRELIMINARY SHOW TO HALLEY'S COMET EXPECTED.

START ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Collection of Star Dust Through Which Earth Will Float Result of Falling Stars.

As a sort of preliminary event to the arrival of the Halley comet, which is even now discernible with the aid of a telescope, astronomers promise inhabitants of the earth something more or less unique in the way of heavenly pyrotechnical displays for Nov. 12-16, inclusive, with no money refunded in case of bad weather. The Leonid shower of meteors is the official title of the event.

The Leonid shower of meteors is not as dangerous as it sounds. The fact is the earth on that occasion is scheduled to cut into the orbit of the comet, and the result is that many humorous and funny meteors will be sent scattering downward like the various parts of a skyrocket after it has exploded. It will be beautiful, but also harmless. The astronomers say the only real danger of a sudden attack from other planets this winter is likely to come from Halley's comet, all others being amenable to the law.

Show Opens After Midnight.
The Leonid shower, according to astronomers, will begin on Friday night on or about 3 o'clock on any morning between Nov. 12 and 16.
Inclusive, is most likely to see the occurrence, for it will be an after-midnight show. The star shower will be plainly visible to the human eye, though not in so marked a degree as has been the case in former years.

"It will not be particularly plain this year," said Professor Forrest Ray, Monroe of the astronomy department,
Chicago university, "for the reason that the very visible ones occur only every thirty-three years and our last show was in 1899. It is likely to be seen when it does come. It will be seen at about 3 a. m. We will also have this shower to occur on Nov. 27."

Various sky signs give us multifarious scientific facts on the event, the result of long research. We learn that this year the earth crosses the orbit of this belt of minute meteors of the solar system at a point ten years away from the maximum density.

"Thought It Was Doomsday."
"In 1893," declares one oracle, the rain of the heavens was almost astounding. "The stars fell as fast and thick as flakes of snow on a winter's day. Prof. Olmsted reckoned that 240,000 gleaming trails were visible in the course of nine hours. To the ignorant it spelled the world's end—doomsday—when the skies should spill all their contents on the earth."

"The penurious estimate is generally accepted as the measure of the components of this periodic shower meteors. Compared to the shower of 1893, that occurring this month will be puny."

Always Influenced by Sun.
The Leonid stream is explained as a long ellipse in which the shower evolves, sometimes close enough to the sun to come in contact with the earth. At other times it is far out beyond Uranus to the limit of planetary space, yet it is always under the influence of the sun.

Along this long ellipse, we are told,
is spotted a chain of cosmic gravel, enough to mark its presence every November night when the earth bumps into the orbit. It was once described as a "ring with its rim on it," and the gem is "that great central agglomeration of the mass which yielded such an amazing and terrifying display in 1893, and again though not so markedly, in 1899."

CHURCH MEETING TO SELECT THE PASTOR

First Congregational Church and Society Will Call Dr. Beaton
This Evening.

This evening the members of the First Congregational church will hold a business meeting following the regular Thursday evening prayer meeting and will proceed to elect a pastor to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Reverend Denison. Dr.
Beaton of Chicago has been nominated and will doubtless be the pastor chosen. The following are the two church calls for the business meeting:

NOTICE.
The members of the First Congregational church will take notice that the nomination of Dr. Beaton to the pastorate will be acted on Thursday evening, November 11th. The meeting will be in the audience room of the church.
John M. Whitehead, Clerk.

NOTICE.
There will be a meeting of the First Congregational church and society, Thursday evening, November 11th, at the close of the church meeting, in the audience room of the church, to take such action on the nomination of Dr. Beaton to the pastorate as in the judgment of the society may be proper.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube.
When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be impaired forever. The cause of deafness is caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous sur-

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA.

They Clog the Pores—Only a Liquid
Can Reach the Inner Skin.

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and can not penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—profoundly explains the tremendous success of the only standard-liquid eczaccepted this as the true eczema cure.

CHAPTER XVII.

EMMA moved toward the door, but her husband ran and intercepted her.

"Wait a minute. You can't go that way," he said determinedly. "You are my wife, and you can't leave here without some explanation."

"I've no explanation to make," she retorted coldly. "You will please let me go. I've done my part, and it's my right to leave."

"I tell you I won't let you go until you tell me the truth. What happened with Williams, and how did you induce him to agree?"

"You're no right to ask that. The price I paid for that letter is none of your business. You set that price at the highest possible figure a woman can pay. Now, how I bargained or what I paid is none of your affair."

"It is my affair. I want to know, and I will know!"

"When you sent me to that man, Joe Brooks, I told you that if I made the bargain I was to make it alone, that it was to be my business alone and that I should never be asked. You agreed, I've carried out my part. You carry out yours. I gave you your freedom. You give me mine."

"There is only one reason why you should leave here now, and that is Williams. Are you going back to him?"

She stepped back from him and swept him with a look of cold disdain.

"If there was one thing left for you to do to make you the most contemptible and you've done it now," she exclaimed. "When you sent me to Williams I thought you'd sink as low as you could, but I see I was mistaken. There was a depth that even in my dream, my loathing of you, I never imagined existed. But now you've reached it. I don't hate you. I just pity you."

A gleam of fury glowed in his eyes under this merciless condemnation, and he moved toward her menacingly.

"That's not the answer I want," he

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ill, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."

Another Operation Avoided.

Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had small tumors and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."

ALYSSA SPENGLER, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ill, including displacements, inflammation, abdominal tumors, irregularities, periods, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

said harshly. "You're quibbling. Tell me the truth about Williams."

"You'd better let me go."

"You'll tell me the truth about Williams before you leave this room!" he shouted. "Make up your mind to that now, because that's just the way it's going to be!"

She realized that she had gone too far in her denunciation, that he would stop at nothing, not even blows, not even murder. He was white, his teeth were set, and on his quivering face was an expression of ferocious determination that warned her that she must temporize and appear to give in to him.

"Very well," she assented, turning from the door; "it's the way it's going to be. I'm perfectly willing."

"Then answer me."

"I intend to do that, but I intend to do something more than merely answer that question. If you don't mind, I'd better sit down."

She motioned him to a chair and seated herself so that the table was between them.

"In the first place," she went on, very calmly, "in order to relieve your mind I might tell you that I have done nothing tonight which can reflect upon me as a good woman. I had no intention of doing any such thing. So far as I can find out, you are the only person who has any degradation in mind and was willing that it should happen if it resulted in your escaping the consequences of being a thief."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that Captain Williams did not have the slightest idea of putting a price on your freedom toward which I in any way would have to contribute. You seem to be the only one who thought that I, with all I hold precious, was a fair game to offer. Had I gone, had he demanded, had I submitted and brought back that paper and given myself to you again, as well as your freedom, you would have been contented and happy."

"You know that's not true, Emma," he protested. The white heat of his ire had been dulled by her quietness, and little by little he was becoming calmer.

"I know it is true, Joe, and so do you. I wanted to go to mother without having all this talk, but now that we have to talk let's be frank with each other and with ourselves. And you try to appreciate the truth as much as you are able. To begin with, it seems that I have been alone in not realizing how worthless you are. My father when we were to be married warned me not to take you unless I thought you indispensable to my happiness. You know that every one else put it a little more bluntly. But I thought I loved you—I'm sure I did. Now it seems utterly beyond belief. But then it must have been love. I mistook your egotism for a deeper sentiment, a determination of purpose, and I thought in my glib way that the things you preached about socialism, the cruelty of the rich and all that meant that you were noble, self-sacrificing, even brilliant. Now I know the difference. You fight capital! God sometimes is kind to a fighter, but he can't have much use for a man who whines."

"You believed me then, Emma," he said brokenly. "You know you did—you know you did."

"That's the wonderful part of it. I've always believed you till tonight, and now I know I never should have believed you. You've always been a liar, and you've always been dishonest at heart. Your incompetency, the way you were distracted by your employees, I thought was hard luck, injustice. But now I know that you never were and never will be the least bit of good to yourself or any one else. You married me to help yourself. You tried to disgrace me to help yourself. I was willing to meet the situation, but you couldn't, and tonight you wanted to sell me to help yourself. I pity you from the bottom of my heart. I think I've told you the reason why I cannot live with you any longer."

She rose.

"Emma," he supplicated humbly, "it will all be different. Let me start out again. Give me another chance. I'll never lie to you again, and I'll never take a cent that isn't my own. I promise you I won't."

She shook her head.

"Oh, yes, you will. You can't help it. Captain Williams told me tonight that a woman who was good couldn't be bad and a woman who was bad couldn't be good. It's that way with men. One who is inherently honest could never be dishonest, and one who is inherently dishonest could never be honest. You are both a thief and a liar, and there is no hope for you. You've struck the downward path, and you'll keep on going until the end. If you ever had a chance it was with me, and now I'm sorry. You're more sorry than I can tell. Goodbye."

He leaped to the door, and placed his hand against it.

"Emma, you mustn't go. You can't go. I will not let you go."

"I will go, and I request that you will open the door," she said firmly.

She grasped the handle, but he put out his arm and forced her away.

"Enough of this tomfoolery!" he cried, with a savage scowl, following her up menacingly as she staggered back. "In your husband, I order you to stay here, and here you will stay!"

"It only remained for you to strike me," she growled.

"Strike you! I'll strangle you if you ever dare to try to speak to me again as you have done this night. I'm born with you and I'm sorry for that, but I'll put up with your insults too long. What I did was for you, and you know it. What you did, about which you are giving yourself such airs, is no more than any wife would do for a husband who'd acted as I did. That's all there is to it, and I don't want to hear any more about it now or at any other time. I'm master in this house, and I'm going to remain master."

"You are not my master, and you can't frighten me with your threats," she retorted. "Open the door this instant!"

He grasped her roughly by the arm. "You take your hat off and go to bed," he ordered, pushing her toward the bedroom. "That's the best place for you."

"Never!" she panted, wrenching herself free and grasping a vase on the table to defend herself with. "If you make one step toward me, you coward, I'll scream for help."

Rushing at her, he seized her by the throat and hurled her on the sofa. His fingers tightened their grip, choking all utterance.

"You will leave me, will you?" he cried, shaking her with all his strength. "Leave me! Leave me! Then you will leave me dead!"

He did not hear a knock nor the opening of the door that followed it. A hand gripped him by the collar, and his own grasp of Emma's frail form relaxed. The hand swung him round and sent him reeling across the room.

"What's the matter with you, Brooks? Has it got to wife bawling now?"

Smith stood looking at him scornfully.

Emma struggled up, more dead than alive.

"Oh, Jimmy," she cried, "he tried to kill me because I would not stay with him!"

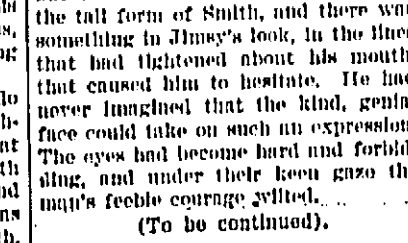

"All right, Emma, you go now," he replied.

"You stop here!" commanded her husband furiously. "What does this man mean by interfering in my affairs?"

"I guess that man has a big claim on your gratitude," said Smith. "That's two escapes you've had tonight—one from the penitentiary and one from the electric chair. You've a whole lot to be thankful for if you only knew it, Brooks, but it looks like you don't."

Emma had reached the door and hurried out without looking back. Her husband would have pushed after her, but between him and the exit stood the tall form of Smith, and there was something in Jimmy's look, in the flash that had lightened about his mouth, that caused him to hesitate. He had never imagined that the kind, genial face could take on such an expression. The eyes had become hard and forbidding, and under their keen gaze the man's feeble courage melted.

The Doctor's Questions

Some Advice Against the Use of Harsh Purgatives and Physics.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" It knows that 88 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver. This condition poisons the system with waste matter and causes accumulation of gases, which must be removed through the bowels before health can be restored.

Salt, ordinary pills and cathartics may be truly likened to dynamite. Through their harsh, irritating action they force a passage through the bowels, causing pain and damage to the delicate intestinal structure which weakens the whole system, and at best only produces temporary relief. The repeated use of such treatments causes chronic irritation of the stomach and bowels, dries and hardens their tissues, deadens their nerves, stiffens their muscles and generally brings about an injurious habit which sometimes has almost, if not fatal results.

We have a pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of the great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case where it fails to produce entire satisfaction. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies. We urge you to try them at our entire risk.

Reckall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly and have a soothing, strengthening, healing, regulative influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, grip, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effects, and they may be taken at any time without inconvenience.

Reckall Orderlies overcome the drug-habit and safely remedy constipation and associate ailments, whether acute or chronic, except in surgical cases. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Price, 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Janeville only at our store—The Rexall Store, The South Drug Co.

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of

Talks on Snake Culture

No. 41—Doubly Discounted

The man who has the fragrance of spirituous liquors on his breath is discounted everywhere, and under all circumstances. Nobody attaches any importance to the things he says. He may utter great truths, and scatter shining samples of philosophy, and say things as sweet as the song of the lark, but everybody will attribute his outpourings to the inspiration of John Barleycorn, and will invite him to seek a hermitage in a howling wilderness and abide there forever. The man with a pickled breath soon becomes so loathsome that he doesn't know what to do with himself. Of course, he can associate with other men whose breaths are pickled, but there is no fun in that; for he always wants to do all the talking, and they are afflicted the same way. People whose breaths comply with the pure food laws always dodge him. They rather walk around six blocks, or hide under a sidewalk, than listen to him talking for two minutes. There is nothing more disagreeable than this pickled breath, and there is nothing more penetrating. The man who possesses it may be talking in the basement of a hotel, and the people in the fourteenth story rooms will think the gas is escaping. Is it surprising that there isn't a welcome anywhere for the man with the magenta breath?

TWO OF A KIND.
That a job is very like a nut is quite a well-known fact;
It may be good—it may be bad—
You can't tell till it's cracked.

The news of Rockefeller's gift of $1,000,000 to cure those afflicted with the Hook-worm, or lazy microbe, reaches an afflicted community down South.

Darwin and Wallace.

In 1858 Wallace sent to Darwin a paper in which he sketched the outlines of a theory identical with that upon which Darwin had so long been at work. The same sequences that led Darwin to the discovery of natural selection and its consequences had led Wallace to the very threshold of the same discovery; but in Mr. Wallace's mind the theory had by no means been wrought out to the same degree of completeness to which it had been brought in the mind of Mr. Darwin.

Men and Morality.

All the great ethical teachers from Aristotle and Plato down to Sidgwick and Spencer have been "contemptible" men. Man, and not woman, has created that immense moral force, a public conscience—Harold Owen, in London Chronicle.

Heart Trouble from Childhood

"I suffered with my heart from girlhood; could not sleep on left side. Eleven bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy removed all these troubles, and brought complete recovery." MRS. H. C. CRUSE, San Francisco, Calif.

The life of the body is the blood. It runs on and on, carrying nourishment and gathering up impurities as long as life lasts—the heart makes it go. When the heart is weak it cannot do this, and dizzy spells, palpitation, short breath, indicate that it is doing its work imperfectly.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, and restores normal action to the heart. The first bottle will benefit; if not, your druggist will return your money.

What, indeed!

"James was always kind of morose," said Mrs. Pulgo to her caller, "but now he's married again, seems as if he couldn't bear to have anybody smile." "There you go," he says to Almira, the other day, "always singing them secular songs in this vale of woe. What if you was took sudden, says he, 'and called to your last account with the 'Soldier's Tour' in your mouth?'"—Exchange.

Successful Dry Farming.

Grill and hard work are the secrets of successful dry farming. Cultivate the intensive plan; use just so much acreage as you feel sure you will be able to cultivate carefully and constantly; plow deep and frequently, bringing from below and mixing well with the surface sandy loam the heavier subsoils which underlie all this region.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, November 11, 1869.—The other day we made mention of the fact that a couple of women in "the patch" had had a little fuss with one of the boys. One of them, Almira Sumner, it will be remembered, attempted to gouge out the eye of a fellow named Langlois with a knife, and indulged in certain other free and easy carving about his head and arms. The aforesaid Almira was brought up this morning before Justice Hudson and after due examination was sentenced to the poor house for six months as a vagrant; and Catherine Cahn, another of the girls, shared the same fate.

good price yet. The Doty Manufacturing company of this city have just completed a portable gas machine for a new Baptist church in Princeton, Ill. Good Timothy hay sells in this market for from $10 to $12 per ton. Clover is from $6 to $7.

The new telegraph company, which canvassed this city for subscription to its stock some time since, proposes to build its line through this place next spring. It would have done it this fall but for the strenuous effort to reach the Missouri river the present season.

No year since the organization of Janesville as a city has been so much the substantial improvements on the streets as at present. The work done on them shows at good advantage.

Adam and the Apple.

The old marchioness of Salisbury recently was at church, a rare thing with her, and the preacher, speaking of the fall, observed that Adam, excusing himself, had cried out: "Lord, the woman tempted me!" At this quotation Lady Salisbury, who appeared not to have heard of the incident before, jumped up in her seat, saying: "Shabby fellow, indeed!"—Memoirs of the Duchess of Dino.

The Real Reformer.

The true reformer is he who creates new institutions and gives them life and energy, and trusts to them for throwing off such evil humors as may be lying in the body politic. The true reformer is the seminal reformer, not the radical. And this is the way the Sower, who went forth to sow his seed, did really reform the world, without making any open assault to uproot what was already existing.—Author unknown.

Fad Too Expensive.

A woman in Worcester, Mass., was surprised at receiving extra large bills for gas used the last two months and on investigating the matter found that her new maid was keeping a teakettle sizzling on the gas stove all day long. In answer to her query as to the reason the maid informed her that she felt more like working while the kettle was singing. The maid now works without accompaniment.

Oil Business a Vast One.

There are 500,000 men engaged in the production of oil in the United States, on whose labor 2,500,000 people depend, and the daily wages paid are about $1,000,000, or approximately $300,000,000 a year. This includes the production, refining and shipping of petroleum, as also the manufacturing of petroleum products.

SEND US WORD

Subscribers to The Gazette will confer a favor upon the publishers by sending word immediately to this office of any irregularity in delivery of paper, any error in the dating of subscription—in fact reporting anything that is not correct regarding delivery of paper.

During the recent contest there were many opportunities for mistakes and it is the wish of the paper to rectify any error which may have been made at that time.

"We will pay good wages to first-class, live stenographers who will allow our business to come before their sweethearts, theaters and pleasure parties; our hours are from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., but sometimes we work later; clock watchers are useless to us." This original announcement appeared in the London newspapers the other day.

Robes from the Musk Ox. Many musk ox robes are in use in the province of Ontario for cold weather driving. They are rare and too costly to be common.

REVERSING THINGS.

Princes—P'm afraid I'm not good enough for the 'Varsity team. The Coach—Don't be a cheap, old man. Sometimes a good 'varsity' makes a bad beginning.
